HELP ME BUILD A HOME OF MY OWN

Community volunteer Jamie Marino worked with a child at SOS Children's Village and the two of them built these houses. Conversations include building relationship skills and creating our own homes and families.

As I review the 2011 community involvement of the Help Me Build a Home of My Own program I have an overwhelming sense of accomplishment and gratitude. My heartfelt thanks go to everyone who helped in any way.

As I look to the upcoming year I would like to involve more volunteers from the private sector along with business community partners. Up to this point we have involved a small number of volunteers who assisted as we implemented the program.

This is the year for mentoring and involvement. For each child that builds a clay art home and participates in the program I would like to have a volunteer adult sitting next to them building a home along with them. A team of two, if you will.
